

Personal and Social Responsibility Competency (November)

The Personal and Social Responsibility Competency is the set of abilities that relate to students identity in the world, both as individuals and as members of their community and society.

As you reflect on this competency you understand there are consequences for decisions and actions.

This reflection will be a part of your 2024/2025 school year record and be kept in your student file.

For the month of September and October, our theme across the school is “Identity”. Being a part of the Spartan community involves being able to understand and see how you can:

- Take pride in who you are and understand that you are part of a larger community
- Understand that your identity is influenced by many aspects of your life. You are aware that your values shape your choices and contribute to making yourself a unique individual
- Identify how your life experiences have contributed to who you are and that your identity is continuously changing and evolving

To reflect on your identity and your personal and social abilities (competencies), select one of the events listed below and then comment on how this event has helped you understand one or more of the above points.
