Area of Learning: ENGLISH LANGUAGE ARTS 10–12

COMPOSITION 11 (4 credits)

Description

Composition 11 is designed for students who have an interest in refining their skills in written communication in a variety of contexts as they continue to explore, extend, and improve their writing. The course provides opportunities for students individually and collaboratively to study, create, and write original, authentic pieces for diverse purposes and in diverse forms. Within a supportive community of writers, students will work individually and collaboratively to explore and create coherent, purposeful compositions. They will develop their craft through processes of drafting, reflecting, and revising to build a body of work that demonstrates breadth, depth, and evidence of writing for a range of situations. The course provides opportunities for diverse learners to be supported in developing and refining their writing abilities.

The following are possible areas of focus within Composition 11:

- narrative, expository, descriptive, persuasive, and opinion pieces, with attention to areas such as thesis development, structure, transitions, hooks and leads, persuasion, argumentation, and the study of a wide range of sample works
- planning, drafting, and editing processes
- writing for specific professional audiences and specific academic disciplines
- how to cite sources, consider the credibility of evidence, and evaluate the quality and reliability of the source

Suggested interdisciplinary links:

- publishing process and industry (Applied Design, Skills, and Technologies)
- writing within a specific field or profession (Social Studies, Science, Math)
- researching and writing within a specific academic discipline (Science, Social Studies)
- advertising writing accompanied by art/graphics (Visual Art; Applied Design, Skills, and Technologies)

BIG IDEAS

The exploration of text and story deepens our understanding of diverse, complex ideas about identity, others, and the world.

People understand text differently depending on their worldviews and perspectives.

Texts are socially, culturally, geographically, and historically constructed.

Language shapes ideas and influences others.

Questioning what we hear, read, and view contributes to our ability to be educated and engaged citizens.
