

ORIENTATION TO CANADA

As a newcomer, you may have many questions about your transition to life in Canada. Settlement Service Organizations are funded by Immigration, Refugees, and Citizenship Canada and can help you with exploring career options and finding employment, learning about getting your foreign credentials recognized, introducing you to community services and resources, helping you to register your children for school, finding government information, finding free language classes and much more.

To find a settlement organization near you:

Permanent residents, including refugees: <https://www.cic.gc.ca/english/newcomers/services/index.asp>

Temporary residents, including refugee claimants, temporary foreign workers, and post-secondary international students: <https://www.welcomebc.ca/temporaryresidents>

EMERGENCIES:

9-1-1 for Emergencies:

In most places in B.C., the emergency phone number for fire, police, and ambulance is 9-1-1. The 9-1-1 call is free. When you call 9-1-1, an operator will answer the phone. The operator will ask if you need police, fire, or ambulance. 9-1-1 is for police, fire, or medical emergencies when immediate action is required: someone's health, safety, or property is in jeopardy, or a crime is in progress.

Non-emergency numbers & online crime reporting – Surrey:

For police matters that do not require an immediate response, file a report online or call the non-emergency line. Non-Emergency Police: 604-599-0502 or Non-Emergency Fire: 604-543-6700

EMPLOYMENT AND ACCREDITATION

Accreditation:

The International Credential Evaluation Service (ICES) is the provincially mandated credential evaluation service in British Columbia. They are also a member of the Alliance of Credential Evaluation Services of Canada (ACESC). www.bcit.ca/ices

HEALTH CARE

Registering for Medical Services Plan (MSP)

All residents of B.C. must be registered with the Medical Services Plan (MSP). You need to apply to register for MSP. On your application, make sure you write your name exactly as it appears on other official documents. You should register for MSP as soon as you arrive in B.C. You may have to wait for up to 3 months for your application to be processed. If you do not have MSP, you should buy private medical insurance. If you need medical care in B.C. and you do not have MSP or private medical insurance, you will have to pay all medical costs yourself. These costs can be very high. For more information and to register for MSP, contact Health Insurance BC. Vancouver Area: 604 683-7151 Toll-free: 1 800 663-7100. To Apply for Healthcare: <https://www.gov.bc.ca/MSP/applyforhealthcare>

Getting Your BC Services Card

You will need a BC Services Card to access health care and other government services. <https://www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/governments/government-id/bc-services-card>

HealthLink BC

HealthLink BC provides free non-emergency health information and advice in B.C. Information and advice is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week by telephone, website, a mobile app, and printable information. All of HealthLink BC's services are free. HealthLink BC does not provide emergency services. If you have an urgent medical situation, call 9-1-1. www.healthlinkbc.ca

Finding a family doctor

If you live in British Columbia and need a family doctor or nurse practitioner, register for the Health Connect Registry. When you register, you are added to a centralized registry of primary care providers across your community. Registration takes less than 10 minutes. You need to provide: Personal Health Number (PHN), found on your BC Services Card, your home address, and your email address and phone number. For more information: <https://www.healthlinkbc.ca/health-connect-registry>
