Pink Shirt Day – Wednesday 27th February – T-shirt orders now available

In 2007, two Nova Scotia senior high school students witnessed a grade 9 boy being bullied for wearing a pink shirt. The next day, they bought 50 pink shirts and rallied together in pink, and Pink Shirt Day was born. Every year CKNW Kids' Fund encourages everyone to rally together in their Pink Shirts in February. To date, more than $1.2 million for anti-bullying programs has been raised through the sale of Pink Shirt Day T-Shirts.

On February 27, 2019, we encourage everyone to practice kindness and wear pink to symbolize that you do not tolerate bullying.

This year, Katzie will be selling customized pink t-shirts. The cost for these t-shirts is $10, with $2 from the sale of every t-shirt being donated to the CKNW Kid's Fund. Paper order forms will be coming home with your student in the next couple of days and you can either pay online or send a cheque with your child(ren).
