

SFU RESEARCH CAMPS

The Autism and Developmental Disabilities Lab (ADDL) is hosting FREE research camps for campers ages 6-11. Both autistic and non-autistic youth are welcome to attend any ONE camp day at the SFU Burnaby campus! Scan the QR code or click here to register!

Girls day!

March 18th 8:30am-2:30pm: ages 6-11

Learn Magic with Kel!

March 19 8:30am-2:30pm: ages 6-11

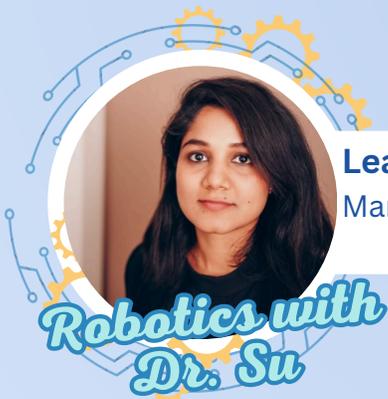

Learn about the brain with the DMA!

March 20 or 21 8:30am-2:30pm: ages 6-11

Learn Robotics with Dr. Su!

March 25, 26, 27, or 28 8:30am-2:30pm: ages 6-11

DETAILS ABOUT THE RESEARCH

Our camps are research funded—this means campers will be invited to participate in research activities. Voluntary participation is appreciated as the camps are an opportunity to investigate different aspects of Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) to help us understand how it may impact development and daily functioning.

Questions? Reach out to us via email at addl@sfu.ca.